- Abstract: A rich text editor containing the following text: 'Washing hands is one of the sanitation measures during the current pandemic. Alcohol has been widely used as a skin antiseptic because it has the effect of inhibiting the growth of bacteria. Continuous contact of alcohol with the skin causes the skin to become dry and irritates the skin. Dry skin can be treated by using a moisturizer. One that has the potential to moisturize the skin that has no side effects is the white layer of watermelon skin because it contains vitamins A, B2, B6, F, C. The
